Organ Energy Analysis (according to classical chinese medicine stems&branches method)

This indicates the strength of your major organs' qi (chi), which affects many aspects of life, mainly your organ health and function and emotions.

Note that in Traditional Chinese Medicine a deficiency or excess is regarded as significant or problematic.

Values: 0 - indicates deficient energy

(although this energy will come into your life in time cycles),

1 & 2 - balanced energy,

3 & 4 & more - high or excess energy.

膽 Gallbladder 2
肝 Liver 2
肺 Lung 1
大腸 Large intestine 2
胃 Stomach 3
脾 Spleen 2
心 Heart and Pericard 1
小腸 Small Intestine and Triple Warmer 4
膀胱 Bladder 2
腎 Kidney 1

Characteristics of your 日主 Day Master

This is a description of your day master's personality traits; however your day master strength together with the quantity and quality of the other 4 elements in your natal chart will affect how much of it applies to you. Incoming timely energies will also affect your day master.

Fire is the radiating energy from the South, the energy of Summer.

Yang Fire Day Master's personality traits:

Yang fire is like the sun, it radiates warmth and light, it can be generous, open, sincere, just, upright, noble, vibrant, explosive, passionate, independent, outgoing, selfish, lonely, arrogant, opinionated, charismatic, straightforward, relentless, bossy, but born leaders and warriors. Good talkers, but not always good listeners. Expressive and sentimental, yang fire day masters will take up a cause with vigor; they like routines but get bored easily or become impatient.

These sun kings can think the world revolves around them, although they help others they can lose support through their impatience. They can be conceited and impatient in actions, speech and ideas, leading to misunderstandings. They have a tendency to waste resources and suffer from mood swings and bad tempers. They need to keep their flames under control to achieve their maximum.

Characteristics of your Birth Year Animal

Ram

Positive Traits: Good Manners, Sensitivity, Invention, Taste, Whimsy, Perseverance

Shortcomings: Tardiness, Parasitism, Lack of Foresight, Pessimism, Worry, Impracticality

Rams are considerate; they reflect before action and try not to hurt somebody else's feelings.

Empathy is very important to Ram people, and they cherish the approval of people they respect.

But Rams sometimes demand too much attention and force too much attention on those with whom they are close.

Their sensitivity can be too delicate for this world, and it's not unusual for a Ram to misread a situation.

This produces a sense of insecurity that fills them with the need for love and the desire for being held and protected.

Ram people are very romantic, sweet, and lovable, and these traits combined with their gentle and caring nature make them very attractive to the opposite sex. Rams and their partners will find particular benefit in the chi kung posture the Golden Turtle. When Ram discovers the rooted-ness of his physical being while being pushed, it will be much easier to let go of the emotional baggage that has been weighing so heavily on Ram's spirit.

Ram people are very creative, and this should not be suppressed. They love beautiful objects and find great satisfaction in crafting harmonious works of art. Because of Ram's emotional vulnerability, the Inner Smile and Six Healing Sounds are required, not suggested.

神 煞 Symbolic Stars

These exceptional stars are named hereafter their particular character trait potential, which can be potentially positive or negative for the bearer or others who come into contact with them. The effects will always depend on the many variables of astrology e.g. quality and quantity of day master and other elements and the time and place in the chart that the star occurs.

When they come into the chart as annual year luck (or even monthly or daily) they interact with the natal chart energies during that period. Their position in the natal chart generally shows the area of interaction :

Year branch indicates effect on grandparents, parents and the family in the broader sense.

Month branch indicates an effect on the person themselves

Day branch indicates effect on their spouse or the individual's personality

Hour branch indicates effects on children or on the individual's senior year

天乙貴人 Assistance Star In a natal chart, there will be help from un-expected sources, thanks to the goddess Tian Yi. Disastrous situations can become fortunate; and if in your birth chart can enable popularity. In annual luck, it can bring out promotion or more wealth.

华盖 Philosophy Star Interest in esoteric and philosophic matters. In your natal chart, it adds a hard-working and intelligent energy, although too much of this can make for conceit.

羊刃 Aggression Star Gives an underlying tendency to aggression, but can either be good or bad depending on the other energies. Often worse in a strong day master but gives more courage to a weak day master. It can affect the person or their relationships.

十干祿 Prospect Star Reinforces wealth potential, but it can be an overloading force for a strong day master. For a weak day master it is mainly positive assistance.

天德貴人 Benevolent Star Characterised by kindness, modesty, stability and down-to earth qualities; it can be a great boost to potential in a chart.

月德貴人 Kindness Star Reinforces luck in many areas of life for most charts, e.g. marriage prospects, dealing with difficult events or runs of bad luck.

桃花 Romance Star or Peach Blossom Affects emotions, desires, charisma, relationships and marriage luck and even career prospects due to the charismatic side. In some charts, it can leave the person frustrated in relationships and more concerned with sexual conquests.

文昌貴人 Study Star This is an artistic star accompanied by intelligence and often is disinterested in material gains. If it reinforces similar characteristics in the chart, it can well indicate excessive, reclusive behaviour and is common among monks, nuns and hermits.

驿馬 Horse-Travel Star The Horse star means travel, (traditionally by horseback) foreign appointments but also movement and change. If there are more than one of these stars then it could make the person restless.

將星 Commander Star This star is about leadership qualities and in the natal chart would show as authority and presence. In annual stars it can show as independence and enterprising skills.
